UPDATE

A new case was identified in the evening of Oct.27, 2020, and one of the previous active cases is now considered recovered, which leaves the number of active cases in the community at 3. This new case is another household contact of the previous 3 cases and has been isolating since Oct.21. Contact tracing was completed yesterday and no new contacts have been identified. All contacts of previous cases have continued their isolation and are being supported by the team at the health centre.
